SOLICITORS

Katy Manley founded the litigation practice of Manley Turnbull and the Professional Negligence Lawyers Association. The aims of both organisations has been to improve the process for resolution of disputes involving professional negligence and liability. This has been achieved largely by developing better relationships between lawyers acting on both sides of the fence in civil claims and regulatory actions. The insurance industry is an integral part of this process and the main beneficiary from the results achieved. Comprehensive risk management systems in all businesses include processes for monitoring and review of professional relationships and this will undoubtedly be a growth area for lawyers internationally specialising in this developing area of practice. Turnbull aims to continue to lead the way for innovative and cutting edge solutions in litigation and risk management in the professional negligence and liability sector.
